4am on the New Year eve, our cell phone rang. An emergency call from the freeze alarm system installed in the basement of the main cottage. Preparing for the worst, we ordered immediately a Champion 9200 watts portable generator from Canadian Tire website at 5am. We then rushed from Pickering to Hastings in pitch darkness and close to -40°C weather, and we met with several frozen and one burst water pipes in the cottages.

Now February 12th. We sit at the main cottage kitchen table and overlook the cottages covered with glittering, white, fluffy snow and decorated with panels of meter long icicles. A dozen of Canadian geese playfully swim and search for food in the bone chilling and calm water. Under the snow are the new metal roofs installed at the end of 2017 season.

In addition to the metal roofs for Cottages 1, 2, 4 and 5, we took on several other ambitious renovation projects during the last season. The bedrooms in Cottages 1 and 6 were replaced by vinyl plank flooring in the spring. Cottage 4 had a new ceiling in the living room and was freshly painted. We continued to replace stoves, refrigerators and mattresses. We have several projects planned for 2018.

In 2017, we were honored to host many old friends, some of you have been visiting us over the last decade. We also made many new friends. We thank you for your business, friendship, laughs, positive feedback (Facebook, Google and TripAdvisor), and countless memorable moments. One of those was the wedding party of Stacey and Vanessa over a gorgeous and sunny fall weekend.

While we are still in winter weather, the warm spring and summer is just around corner. It is time to plan your cottage vacation and book the cottages of your preference. To avoid disappointment, give us a call or send us an email early. We look forward to seeing you again if you stayed with us in the past. If we have not met yet, we will welcome you with open arms.

Our very best wishes to all.

Your hosts: Wendy and Henry
